Little Pimples Turn to Cancer.

Cancer often results from an impurity in the blood, inherited from generations back. Few people are entirely free from some taint in the blood, and it is impossible to tell when it will break out in the form of dreaded Cancer. What has appeared to be a mere pimple or scratch has developed into the most malignant Cancer.

League of McKendree Church were installed at 6:30 o'clock last evening at the church. In former years these officers have simply been elected and permitted to assume their respective offices. It was decided last week to have the newly-elected officers formally installed. A large number of leaguers were present, including many strangers in the city. Mr. Bayard Gibson, first vice president of the Senior League, presided. The chief feature of the order of exercises was the formal installation, which was conducted by Dr. H. R. Naylor, pastor of McKendree Church. A number of new active members were then received in the chapter by F. T. Israel, president of the Senior League. Miss Rebecca Robertson, superintendent of the Junior League, spoke encouragingly of the programming the control of the programming t ress of the organization, after which the meeting was closed with singing of the "Doxology." Organization of Spanish War Veterans Incorporated Today.

The Alleged Split in the Ranks and Late.

The organization known as the Spanish War Veterans was today incorporated. This action gives the society a business standing and will allow it to defend its rights in the courts if at any time such action should become necessary.

This action was taken by Gen. Geo. H. Harries, a member of the council of administration, four other members of the association joining him as incorporators. Gen. Harries also took the necessary action to stop the delivery of mail to William Christopher Liller, formerly adjutant general of the Spanish War Veterans, in all cases in which such mail is addressed to him as adjutant general. Such mail coming to this city is now being delivered to

The course pursued by Gen. Harries today is the result of the actions of Mr. Liller. It is generally conceded that Mr. Liller can rightfully claim the honor of being the organizer of the Spanish War Veterans. The idea of forming an organization of the American soldiers and sailors who served in the war with Spain possessed him while he was serving in Cuba, and when he got back to this country he proceeded to carry out the plan he had conceived. He got a roster of all the officers in the war and from his home in Lancaster, Pa., ovened up a correspondence with many of opened up a correspondence with many of

He was going to assemble a large army of veterans in this city, he said, to take part in the organization, and in response to his efforts a score or two of these officers did assemble here. At first Liller proposed to have Gen. Wheeler commander-in-chief, but he changed his mind, and that honor was conferred on Gen. J. Warren Keifer of Ohio, Lawrence J. Logan of Boston being made senior and James H. Tillman of Edgewood, S. C., junior vice commander. Liller, it is said, made himself adjutant general of the association. There were numerous other officers, and the association most the entire length of the field, scoring the touchdown that won the game for Princeton.

Saturday's game was a great game, a sensational, beautiful contest. It was straight foot ball, with practically no fake kicks or trick plays. It was also a kicking game, McBride's work for Yale being superior to Wheeler's because of its accuracy. Yale won the toss and chose the west goal with a stiff wind at its back. In spite of that, Princeton was the first to score, twelve minutes after play began, chiefly through a fine run of thirty-two yards by Reiter, the other Princeton hero of the day. Wheeler with a clear eye and a steady foot kicked the goal, and by just that one point did the tigers win. It was about ten minutes later when Yale also scored through Brown getting by the line, aided by McBride's punting, but he failed to kick goal from the touchdown, the ball being at an awkward angle from the posts, was launched on its career. Everything was moving in Liller's way, when a change came over the situation. The organization proceeded to reorganize, and among other changes made was the dropping of Liller as adjutant. Then Mr. Liller proceeded to figure on his ability to undo whatever he had done.

He called another meeting in this city. to kick goal from the touchdown, the ball being at an awkward angle from the posts, leaving Princeton one to the good.

Then continued the struggle of the glants for the mastery. Princeton naturally felt fairly safe with its small margin, but when Sharpe, Yale's half back, taking advantage of a fumble by Hutchinson, brought the thousands of Yale's admirers to their feet by one of the most spectacular goals ever kicked on a foot ball field, sending the ball between the Princeton goal posts from back of the forty-five-yard line, dismay filled the ranks of the wearers of the orange and black. The score was 10 to 6, and thus it stayed until Poe in the last fifty seconds of play changed the score and once more landed his team victors over Yale.

He called another meeting in this city and remained here himself to form another organization, which was done last Friday evening. No one, it is said, knows who were present at this meeting. What Liller Claimed.

Mr. Liller claimed that the action taken by him was because Gen. Keifer was making political capital out of the original organization, and proposed to remove its headquarters to Ohio in order that he might then better manipulate the association for his own ends. Those connected with the first organization declare that Liller is simply disgruntled because he cannot run it to suit himself. Liller declared his purpose this morning to be to go back home at once, and prominent members of the Spanish war veterans are wondering what the next move will be.

The opinion is that the Kentucky is easily a seventeen-knot ship, although designed for ixteen knots.

The Boston Navy Yard Fire.

The recent Boston navy yard fire turns out to have been of less consequence than first reported. The naval constructor, in branch the fire occurred, has reported to Chief Constructor Hichborn that all the repairs that are necessary can be made for $8,000 in the case of the bending shop, and $7,000 for the plant. The department had already prepared plans for erecting a much larger shop around the present old building, and this project will probably be stimulated by the fire.

Expert criticism of the game places Princeton's interference as the best dis-play of defensive work that has ever been seen on a foot ball field. For a week or more prior to the game the Tigers had been drilled in defensive play, and the shrewdness of the tactics was forcibly demonstrated in Saturday's game. When Relter made his sensational run of thirty-

Relter made his sensational run of thirty-five yards the defensive work of the Tigers was beautifully illustrated as one Yale play-er after another were pocketed and downed in trying to reach the flying half back. The ball was in Yale's territory the greater part of the game, showing the aggressive work of the Tigers at all timees. When the last few minutes of play remained it was seen that but three of the original Princeton eleven were in their places, while Yale had lost but two on account of injuries. With but fifty seconds remaining of play and the score standing 10 to 6 in favor of Yale, a last desperate chance was taken. Poe had never figured as an expert drop kicker, but a chance kick would prove wonderously effective and, like the proverbial drowning man catching at a straw, the ball was passed back to the little Baltimore lad and with a clear eye and nerves of steel he made the sensational kick that sent Princeton to the fore and set the spectators wild with enthusiasm.

Last year this same Arthur Poe pulled off a play more sensational, as it lasted longer and was equally as effective, as it won the game for Princeton over Yale. That time the game was being played at old Nassau, and in the last few minutes of play with the ball close to Princeton's goal the little Marylander grabbed the pigskin after a fumble by one of the Yale men and dashed through the opposition, running almost the entire length of the field, scoring the touchdown that won the game for Princeton.
